The Genesis of a Visionary

Delving into Tara Kelly's background, it becomes evident that her passion for music and technology has been ingrained in her since an early age. Growing up in a household filled with innovation and creativity, Tara was exposed to the wonders of harmonies and technological advancements at a young age.

However, it wasn't until she attended a groundbreaking multimedia symphony that her true inspiration struck like a lightning bolt. Sixteen-year-old, music- and sound design-obsessed Drea doesn't have friends. She has, as she's often reminded, issues. Drea's mom and a rotating band of psychiatrists have settled on "a touch of Asperger's."

Having just moved to the latest in a string of new towns, Drea meets two other outsiders. And Naomi and Justin seem to actually like Drea. The three of them form a band after an impromptu, Portishead-comparison-worthy jam after school. Justin swiftly challenges not only Drea's preference for Poe over Black Lab but also her perceived inability to connect with another person. Justin, against all odds, may even like like Drea.

It's obvious that Drea can't hide behind her sound equipment anymore. But just when she's found not one but two true friends, can she stand to lose one of them?
