This is the original private astrology course created by Carl Payne Tobey in 1955 that has been now edited and digitized by Naomi Bennett, one of his prominent students. This book is his seminal work on astrology with all of his discoveries fully described with extensive background and analysis given for the building blocks and structure of horoscopic astrology. Western astrology was handed down to us from the Hellenistic Egyptian Greeks from incomplete fragmented texts and in multiple translations of Greek, Arabic and Latin. Tobey discovered the missing pieces in the astrological patterns that were handed down through history that form horoscopic astrology today. Many errors have crept into astrology over time but Tobey discovered the underlying structure to a complete whole, integrated pattern of sign rulership, house rulership, and aspect structure that is geometrically and astronomically consistent with Hellenistic Planetary Order. In addition, Tobey gives the astronomy of astrology's design and why the use of equal houses is zodiacally important. He studied and analyzed the solar Arabic parts used by the Egyptians and realized that their pattern created another hidden natal chart he named the Secondary Ascendant. His work is still relevant today since it represents the integration of traditional astrology with modern astrology that can form the basis for a new 21st century astrology.
