Symbolism in The Loyal Company's Crest

The crest of The Loyal Company speaks volumes about its values and dedication. Featuring a cannon surrounded by maple leaves, the crest intertwines the regiment's artillery-focused mission with its deep-rooted Canadian identity. It symbolizes a willingness to defend the homeland and protect the people.

A Legacy of Service and Sacrifice

Throughout its long and illustrious history, The Loyal Company has played a vital role in numerous conflicts and peacekeeping missions. From World War I and

World War II to more recent military operations, the regiment has consistently displayed unwavering bravery and a spirit of selflessness.

One of the most notable contributions of The Loyal Company was during the Battle of Vimy Ridge in 1917. The regiment's brave soldiers fought valiantly and made a significant impact on the success of the Canadian Corps in capturing this strategically important ridge.

Moreover, The Loyal Company has continuously served as a pillar of support for local communities in times of need. Its soldiers have been actively involved in disaster response efforts, providing aid, support, and relief to those affected by natural disasters or other emergencies.

The Regiment Today

Despite the passing of time, The Loyal Company remains an essential part of New Brunswick's military heritage. Its soldiers undergo rigorous training and adhere to strict discipline, ensuring they are always ready to defend their nation.

As technology and warfare have evolved, so too has The Loyal Company. Today, it operates advanced artillery systems and implements cutting-edge strategies to maintain effectiveness on the battlefield. The regiment's commitment to innovation is a testament to its unwavering dedication to the defense of Canada.

Preserving the Rich Heritage of New Brunswick

The 3rd Field Artillery Regiment, The Loyal Company, is not just an embodiment of military excellence but also an important custodian of New Brunswick's history. The regiment actively engages in community events, proudly participating in parades, historical reenactments, and commemorations.

Whether it is the annual Royal Artillery Day or the stirring Remembrance Day ceremonies, The Loyal Company exemplifies the strong bond that exists between the regiment and the people it serves.

Joining The Loyal Ranks

For aspiring individuals who wish to become a part of this honorable regiment, there are opportunities to join The Loyal Company. With a strong focus on teamwork, discipline, and personal growth, becoming a member of The Loyal Company is both a great responsibility and a rewarding experience.

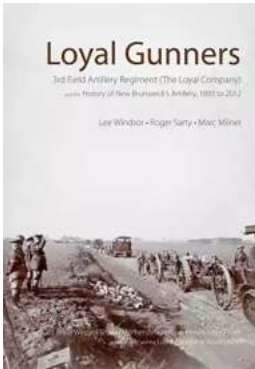

From the moment they take the oath, the new recruits become part of a rich tradition, a legacy that spans over a century. Each soldier finds themselves enveloped in a sense of kinship and pride as they contribute to the ongoing story of The Loyal Company.

The 3rd Field Artillery Regiment, The Loyal Company, serves as a symbol of bravery, honor, and dedication to New Brunswick and Canada. Its history is intertwined with the rich heritage of this beautiful province, and its soldiers represent the very essence of sacrifice and service.

As the regiment continues to march forward, upholding its traditions and embracing the challenges of the modern world, it remains a steadfast reminder of the sacrifices made by those who have come before and a beacon of hope for those who aspire to serve.

Loyal Gunners uniquely encapsulates the experience of Canadian militia gunners and their units into a single compelling narrative that centres on the artillery units of New Brunswick. The story of those units is a profoundly Canadian story: one of dedication and sacrifice in service of great guns and of Canada.

The 3rd Field Regiment (The Loyal Company), Royal Canadian Artillery, is Canada's oldest artillery unit, dating to the founding of the Loyal Company in Saint John in 1793. Since its centennial in 1893, 3rd Field—in various permutations of medium, coastal, and anti-aircraft artillery—has formed the core of New Brunswick's militia artillery, and it has endured into the twenty-first century as the last remaining artillery unit in the province.

This book is the first modern assessment of the development of Canadian heavy artillery in the Great War, the first look at the development of artillery in general in both world wars, and the first exploration of the development and operational deployment of anti-tank artillery in the Second World War. It also tells a universal story of survival as it chronicles the fortunes of New Brunswick militia units through the darkest days of the Cold War, when conventional armed forces were entirely out of favour. In 1950 New Brunswick had four and a half regiments of artillery; by 1970 it had one—3rd Field.

Loyal Gunners traces the rise and fall of artillery batteries in New Brunswick as the nature of modern war evolved. From the Great War to Afghanistan it provides the most comprehensive account to date of Canada's gunners.
